

Dear Friends,

Welcome to Chicago and to the 2nd Annual EGFR Resisters Patient and Caregiver Summit! To those returning, we are so glad to see you back! And to those joining us for the first time, WELCOME!

This weekend is about connection, community, and empowerment. It's an opportunity to learn from experts in EGFR-positive lung cancer, and, just as importantly, from each other.

When we first started the EGFR Resisters in 2017, we were driven by an urgent need to better understand our disease, accelerate research and treatment advances, and build a community in what could feel like an isolating experience. Since then, our community has grown into a powerful force for change, continuing to drive research, inspire change, elevate the patient and caregiver voice, and bring knowledge, connection and hope to people impacted by EGFR-positive lung cancer around the world.

Over the next few days, you will connect with leading experts, patients, caregivers and advocates. Our hope is that you leave feeling more informed, supported, confident and connected.

Thank you for being here and for being part of this extraordinary community. You are what makes this gathering meaningful. We are also deeply grateful to all our pharma partners whose generous support makes this Summit possible! Thank you to the organizations and individuals participating in our Resource Fair. Please take time to meet them and have some fun with the Scavenger Hunt.

Most of all, take time to meet each other. The information shared and learned this weekend matters, but the connections can be just as powerful.

With gratitude and HOPE,
